■ Important Usage Notes

- 1. Receipt vs. Tax Invoice Distinction: This receipt confirms payment has been made, whereas a Tax Invoice is the legal document required for VAT purposes and must be issued at the time of supply. Always issue both documents when required.
- 2. VAT Compliance: The receipt clearly states that the total includes 5% VAT and provides the VAT amount calculation, satisfying FTA transparency requirements.
- 3. Record Keeping: Retain a copy of each receipt for seven (7) years as part of your financial records, along with the corresponding Tax Invoice.
- 4. Bank Transfer Payments: If payment is made via bank transfer, consider attaching a screenshot of the bank confirmation or including the transaction reference number in the "Payment Method" field.
- 5. Link to Invoice: Where possible, always include the "Reference Invoice No." field to maintain a clear audit trail between the original invoice and the payment confirmation.

■ Critical VAT Compliance Update (Effective July 2026)

The UAE Ministry of Finance has published Cabinet Decision No. 100 of 2025, which amends the VAT Executive Regulations and introduces major changes ahead of the July 2026 e-invoicing rollout.

Key changes affecting your business:

- Simplified tax invoices will no longer be allowed for businesses covered under the UAE e-invoicing scope.
- All invoices must be issued as full tax invoices, even for small-value supplies under AED 10,000 or sales to non-VAT registered customers.
- These changes are effective from 29 September 2025 for businesses within the e-invoicing scope.

What this means for SmartVantage AI (FZE):

Your business is expected to fall within Phase 2 (SME) of the e-invoicing rollout, with a mandatory go-live date of 1 July 2027. However, the above amendments mean that once you adopt e-invoicing (whether voluntarily earlier or at the mandatory date), you will need to issue Full Tax Invoices for all transactions — including B2C sales under AED 10,000. Simplified invoices will no longer be a compliant option.

Receipt vs. Tax Invoice Clarification:

This Payment Receipt template remains valid and useful for confirming payment has been received, but it does not replace the requirement to issue a Full Tax Invoice for VAT compliance. For B2C transactions, you will now need to collect and maintain customer data (name and address) sufficient to issue a Full Tax Invoice.
